7-1-S/2026/104

The Permanent Mission of Peru to the United Nations presents its compliments to the Treaty Section of the Office of Legal Affairs, United Nations Secretariat, and, in accordance with article 4 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, bearing in mind what is stated in note verbale LA 41 TR/2017/IV-4/Peru/1, dated 1 March 2017, has the honour to report the following:

By Supreme Decree No. 077-2026-PCM,[1] issued on 21 May 2026, the state of emergency declared in 12 districts and 8 population centres has been extended for a period of 60 calendar days, from 26 May 2026, as detailed below:

1. Department of Ayacucho
   - 1.1 Province of Huanta
     - 1.1.1 District of Ayahuanco
     - 1.1.2 District of Santillana
     - 1.1.3 District of Silvia
     - 1.1.4 District of Llochegua
     - 1.1.5 District of Canayre
     - 1.1.6 District of Pucacolpa
     - 1.1.7 District of Putis

     District of Uchuraccay*
     - Population centre of Ccano
     - Population centre of Yanamonte
     - Population centre of Carhuahuran

[1] The text of Supreme Decree No. 077-2026-PCM of the Republic of Peru is on file with the Secretary-General and is available for consultation.

2. Department of Huancavelica
   2.1 Province of Tayacaja
      2.1.1 District of Roble

      District of Huachocolpa*
         - Population centre of Ichucucho

      District of Cochabamba Grande*
         - Population centre of Cochabamba Grande

3. Department of Cuzco
   3.1 Province of La Convención
      3.1.1 District of Pichari
      3.1.2 District of Unión Ashaninka

      District of Echarate*
         - Population centre of Kiteni

4. Department of Junín

      District of Río Tambo*
         - Population centre of Puerto Ocopa
         - Population centre of Quiteni

(*) It should be noted that the declaration applies only to the population centres and not to the entire respective districts.

This measure was adopted to address the crime and other situations of violence in the aforementioned jurisdictions.

Furthermore, the aforementioned Supreme Decree extends the state of emergency in the territorial area known as the “Camisea Gas Energy Hub”, which spans a distance of 8 kilometres on each side of the natural gas and natural gas liquids transportation system, from the population centre of Nuevo Mundo in the district of Megantoni, Province of La Convención, Department of Cuzco, to the district of Anco in the Province of La Mar, Department of Ayacucho.

Similarly, it includes the territorial area known as the “River-Land Operational Corridor of the Ene River” described in annex 2 of the Supreme Decree attached hereto, which covers an area extending along both banks of the Ene River, with the following boundaries:

(a) Towards the left bank of the Ene River:

- To the west: up to a distance of 10 kilometres parallel to the Ene River.
- To the south: the boundary between the districts of Vizcatán del Ene and Pangoa (from the Ene River to coordinates 12°08′53″S - 74°10′40″W).
- To the north: the boundary between the districts of Mazamari and Pangoa (from the Ene River to coordinates 11°50′56″ S - 74°02’51″ W).

(b) Towards the right bank of the Ene River:

- To the east: Quempiri River.
- To the south: the Cuzco-Junín departmental boundary between the Ene River and the Quempiri River (coordinates 12°14′01″S - 73°52′26″W).
- To the north: the confluence of the Quempiri and Ene Rivers (coordinates 11°54′10″S - 73°55′30″W).

In this context, given the ongoing terrorist activities and other related threats in the area, and in order to enable the armed forces to continue military operations and actions in the area of responsibility of the VRAEM Special Command (CE-VRAEM), restrictions are imposed on the exercise of the constitutional rights relating to the inviolability of the home, liberty of movement in the national territory, freedom of assembly, and liberty and security of person, enshrined in paragraphs 9, 11, 12 and 24 (f) of article 2 of the Political Constitution of Peru, and in articles 9, 12, 17 and 21 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights.

The Permanent Mission of Peru to the United Nations takes this opportunity to convey to the Treaty Section of the Office of Legal Affairs, United Nations Secretariat, the renewed assurances of its highest consideration.
