The President of the United States of America and the President of the Republic of Colombia,

Desirous of settling the long-standing questions concerning the status of Quita Sueño, Roncador and Serrana, with respect to which the Governments of the two countries agreed to maintain the status quo through an Exchange of Notes signed at Washington on April 10, 1928,

Have designated their plenipotentiaries, to wit:

The President of the United States of America: The Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to Colombia, Mr. Leonard J. Saccio;

The President of the Republic of Colombia: The Minister of Foreign Affairs, Doctor Alfredo Vázquez Carrizosa;

Have agreed as follows:

Article 1. In accordance with the terms of this Treaty, the Government of the United States of America hereby renounces any and all claims to sovereignty over Quita Sueño, Roncador and Serrana.

Article 2. In recognition of the fact that nationals and vessels of Colombia and the United States are at the present time engaged in fishing in the waters adjacent to Quita Sueño, both Governments agree that in the future there shall be no interference by either Government or by its nationals or vessels with the fishing activities of nationals and vessels of the other in this area.

Article 3. The Government of the Republic of Colombia further agrees that with respect to Roncador and Serrana it will guarantee to nationals and vessels of the United States a continuation of fishing in the waters adjacent to these cays with no limitation except as provided in the accompanying letter on fishing rights.

Article 4. The provisions of Articles 2 and 3 above relating to fishing shall be subject to any obligations accepted by both Governments under the terms of the accompanying notes on fishing rights and any existing or future international agreement pertaining to fishing or related matters.

Article 5. Each Government agrees that it will not, except in agreement with the other Government, enter into any agreement with a State not party to the present Treaty, by means of which the rights guaranteed nationals and vessels of the other party under this Treaty would be affected or impaired.

Article 6. Provisions concerning the navigational aids on Quita Sueño, Roncador and Serrana shall be set forth in a separate exchange of notes to be concluded by the parties to this Treaty.

¹ Came into force on 17 September 1981 by the exchange of the instruments of ratification, which took place at Bogotá, in accordance with article 8.

Article 7. The present Treaty shall not affect the positions or views of either Government with respect to the extent of the territorial sea, jurisdiction of the coastal state over fisheries, or any other matter not specifically dealt with in this Treaty.

Article 8. The present Treaty shall enter into force upon the exchange of instruments of ratification thereof at Bogotá and shall thereupon terminate the exchange of notes signed at Washington on April 10, 1928.

Article 9. The present Treaty shall remain in force indefinitely unless terminated by agreement of both Governments.

No. 694

The Embassy of the United States of America presents its compliments to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and has the honor to refer to the treaty signed today between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Republic of Colombia concerning the status of Quita Sueño, Roncador and Serrana to replace the exchange of notes signed between our two governments on April 10, 1928. In this connection the Government of the United States wishes to reaffirm to the Government of the Republic of Colombia its legal position respecting Article 1 of that Treaty. That legal position is as follows:

Quita Sueño, being permanently submerged at high tide, is at the present time not subject to the exercise of sovereignty. The Government of the United States notes that the 1928 Treaty and Protocol between the Government of the Republic of Colombia and the Government of the Republic of Nicaragua¹ specifically provide that the Treaty does not apply to Quita Sueño, Roncador and Serrana, sovereignty over which was recognized as being in dispute between the United States and Colombia. The Government of the United States further notes that under the terms of its exchange of notes with the Government of the Republic of Colombia of April 10, 1928, it was recognized at that time that sovereignty over Quita Sueño was claimed by both the United States and Colombia and it was agreed that the status quo in respect of the matter should be maintained.

The Government of the United States understands the legal position of the Government of the Republic of Colombia to be as follows:

The physical status of Quita Sueño is not incompatible with the exercise of sovereignty. In the view of the Government of the Republic of Colombia, the stipulations of the Treaty between Colombia and Nicaragua of March 24, 1928 and the protocol of exchange of ratifications of May 10, 1930* recognized Colombia's sovereignty over the islands, islets and cays that make up the archipelago of San Andres and Providencia east of the 82 meridian of Greenwich, with the exception of the cays of Roncador, Quita Sueño and Serrana, the sovereignty of which was in dispute between the United States and the Republic of Colombia. Therefore, with the renunciation of sovereignty by the United States over Quita Sueño, Roncador and Serrana, the Republic of Colombia is the only legitimate title holder on these banks or cays, in accordance with the aforementioned instruments and international law.

The Embassy of the United States of America avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Colombia the assurances of its highest consideration.

El Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores saluda atentamente a la Honorable Embajada de los Estados Unidos de América y tiene el honor de referirse al Tratado firmado en el día de hoy entre los Gobiernos de los Estados Unidos de América y de la República de Colombia relativo a la situación de Quitasueño, Roncador y Serrana, con el objeto de substituir el canje de notas firmadas entre ambos Gobiernos el 10 de Abril de 1928. A este respecto el Gobierno de Colombia desea confirmar al Gobierno de los Estados Unidos que su posición legal respecto al Artículo 1 de dicho Tratado es la siguiente:

La condición física de Quitasueño no es incompatible con el ejercicio de soberanía. En concepto del Gobierno de la República de Colombia, las estipulaciones del Tratado entre Colombia y Nicaragua del 24 de Marzo de 1928 y el Acta de Canje de Ratificaciones del 10 de Mayo de 1930* le reconocieron a la República de Colombia la soberanía sobre las islas, islotes y cayos que integran el Archipiélago de San Andrés y Providencia, al Este del Meridiano 82 de Greenwich con excepción de los Cayos de Roncador, Quitasueño y Serrana cuya soberanía estaba en litigio entre los Estados Unidos y la República de Colombia. Por tanto, una vez retirada toda reclamación de soberanía de los Estados Unidos respecto de Quitasueño, al mismo tiempo que de Roncador y Serrana, la República de Colombia es el único titular legítimo en tales cayos o bancos según los mencionados instrumentos y el Derecho Internacional.

El Gobierno de Colombia está informado de la posición legal del Gobierno de los Estados Unidos que es la siguiente:

“Quitasueño, que está permanentemente sumergido en la alta marea no está sometido en la actualidad al ejercicio de soberanía. El Gobierno de los Estados Unidos observa que el Tratado y el Acta de 1928 entre el Gobierno de Colombia y el Gobierno de Nicaragua disponen específicamente que el Tratado no se aplica a Quitasueño, Roncador y Serrana, la soberanía de los cuales se reconoció que ha estado en litigio entre Colombia y los Estados Unidos. El Gobierno de los Estados Unidos, observa, además que según los términos de su canje de notas con el Gobierno de Colombia con fecha del 10 de Abril de 1928 se reconoció que en ese entonces la soberanía sobre Quitasueño era objeto de reclamaciones por parte de los Gobiernos de Colombia y de los Estados Unidos y se convino en que debía mantenerse el statu quo al respecto”.

El Ministerio de Relaciones Exteriores expresa a la Honorable Embajada de los Estados Unidos de América su alta consideración.

No. 692

Excellency:

In connection with the signing today of a treaty between the Governments of the Republic of Colombia and the United States of America, I have the honor to convey to you the following understandings of my Government:

1. With respect to Article 2 of that treaty, both governments agree they will exchange views periodically on the desirability of bilateral or multilateral action of a conservation nature.
2. With respect to Article 3 of that treaty, it is understood by both governments that the fishing activities of nationals and vessels of the United States will be subject to reasonable conservation measures applied by the Government of the Republic of Colombia to all fishermen permitted to fish within the present fishing zone adjacent to the cays on Roncador and Serrana. The Government of the Republic of Colombia agrees that the conservation measures applied to nationals and vessels of the United States will be non-discriminatory in nature and no more restrictive than those applied to nationals and vessels of the Republic of Colombia and nationals and vessels of other states permitted to fish in these waters.

3. With further respect to Article 3 of the treaty, it is understood by the Government of the Republic of Colombia that the right of United States nationals and vessels to continue fishing in the waters adjacent to Roncador and Serrana will not prejudice the existing rights of nationals and vessels of the Republic of Colombia or the rights of nationals and vessels of any other state which the Government of Colombia now or in the future may permit to conduct fishing and fishing activities in the waters in question. The Government of the Republic of Colombia agrees that prior to the implementation of conservation measures not now in effect, it will give reasonable notice to the Government of the United States of the nature of these regulations and any necessary measures which must be taken by nationals and vessels of the United States in order to comply with these regulations. The Government of the Republic of Colombia also agrees to consult with the Government of the United States of America, at the latter's request, concerning the effects of such proposed regulations on the rights guaranteed United States nationals and vessels by the treaty signed today.

4. It is understood by both governments with respect to the provisions of Article 4 of the treaty that future multilateral agreements shall be applied in a manner consistent with the right of non-discriminatory access by nationals and vessels of the United States to fisheries in accordance with the provisions of other articles of the treaty and this note.

Excellency, I have the honor to propose that this note and your reply constitute an agreement between our governments on the matters discussed above.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.
